A GREAT CROWD HEARD GOV. COX

ENORMOUS GATHERINGS AT ASHLAND AND HUNTINGTON TO HEAR THE DISTINGUISHED CANDIDATE.

Governor James M. Cox spoke to an immense crowd of enthusiastic Kentuckians at Ashland Tuesday. The number is estimated at 9000 to 10,000. A stand was erected for the occasion on the large lot where the new Ashland National Bank building will be erected. The crowd overflowed from the large plat of ground entirely across the two streets on the front and side. No rain fell during the speaking.

The Governor was greeted with an ovation lasting several minutes. His speech was applauded throughout. Every sentence was a shot straight at the mark and carried conviction with it. He spoke with emotion for the League of Nations, declaring it to be the greatest thing that has happened in the world since birth of Christ. He showed how this League of Peace can not bring war, and repeated his pledge that our boys shall not and can not be sent to war by the league.

We were impressed with the description of Mr. Cox given by Roger Babson, the famous financial expert, of Boston, Mass., as follows:

"As a man, James M. Cox is courageous, virile, keen, a man who says 'yes' when he means 'yes,' a hard fighter with a spirit of American sportsmanship, a God-father, a practical statesman not without a touch of idealism, a successful editor and business man, a foe of tyranny and absolutism, clean-cut, manly, sincere, honorable, loved and respected by his employees, friends and associates as a real man of the people."

Gov. Cox was introduced most eloquently by Mrs. Robert Dickens, of Ashland.

Big Sandy Boosters.
A special train was run on the Big Sandy division and the ten coaches were filled, carrying 863 people. A more enthusiastic crowd never passed over the road. Their shouts all along the way attracted much attention. Alighting from the train at Ashland they formed a procession, four abreast, and marched to the place where the speaking was to occur. James Hatcher of Pikeville, at the head of the procession, carried a large banner bearing the picture of the Governor and the inscription "Cox's Big Sandy Boosters."

At Huntington and Kenova.

On Monday night Gov. Cox had the greatest meeting in Huntington ever there. He gave the notorious Herald-Dispatch deserved attention, scoring their lying practices and calling upon the renegade editor and the conscienceless owners to stand up in the audience and ask him questions. Instead of getting up they looked like they would rather slide under the seats. At Kenova Tuesday morning a large crowd heard Gov. Cox. Also at Catlettsburg on his way down by automobile, he was induced to stop and talk to 2000 people.

From Ashland he went to Portsmouth, speaking in a rain to several thousand.

At Cincinnati.

The next stop was at Cincinnati and here is part of the description of the meeting given by the Enquirer, a "big business" paper that is not supporting Gov. Cox:

"No candidate for President ever received in Cincinnati such a rousing welcome as that accorded to Governor James M. Cox last night from the time he arrived in Cincinnati in a pouring rain until he stepped onto the stage of Music Hall. The mighty multitude which broke loose as he entered the hall cheered him again and again with a frantic fervor that brought a smile of satisfaction to the face of the candidate."

"Although he has been through a gruelling campaign for more than seven weeks and now is on the last lap in the race for the Presidency, Governor Cox retains his energy and voice. His stirring sentences were heard in every corner of the great hall and brought his auditors upstanding several times in a torrent of cheers."

"With an eloquence that thrilled the assemblage Governor Cox pleaded for America to keep the faith, perform a solemn duty and maintain inviolate the honor of the Stars and Stripes. Again the Governor declared his willingness to accept such reservations to the league as are necessary to clarify it, and make definite the duties and obligations of the United States toward other nations in the league."

"During his speech he made reference to his former home in Cincinnati and paid tribute to the intelligence and loyalty of the people of this community, which he said had honored him by their votes when he was a candidate for Governor."

"Governor Cox is optimistic as to the result of the election. He has absolute confidence that he will be elected President next Tuesday. He said he could not conceive of the American people undoing all the good that had been done in the last eight years. The fire of an abiding faith seemed to mark his utterances and he swayed the vast audience as no speaker in Music Hall ever before had been able to do."

"At no other time since it was built has Music Hall contained as many people as it did last night. At 6 o'clock the crowd was so great that the police with difficulty prevented the doors being broken down. Not only the auditorium, balcony and gallery were packed, but hundreds filled the aisles. More than 1,000 were on the stage. So close were they jammed that movement of more than hands or arms was impossible.

"A comparatively small number of those who went to Music Hall were able to gain entrance. Long after the indoor meeting had begun the throngs in front of the building and at the rear doors were hoping for admission. They stood patiently in the rain waiting for the dismissal of the assemblage to get a glimpse of Governor Cox and give him a cheer of encouragement."

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Arthur Bayes, 26, of Hellier, to Myrtle Steele, 18, of Cordell.
Edgar Fairchild, 23, of Williamson, to Jessie Webb, 14, of Fort Gay.
Herman Webb, 21, to Nelle K. Jobe, 16, of Gladys.
Cleve Puckett, 24, of Paintsville, to Nora Castle, 21, of Thealka.
Elias George, 59, to Mary Castle, 38, of Lowmanville.
John H. Muncy, 51, of Louisa, to Lillian Bradley, 37, of Madge.
J. H. Burke, 40, of Auxier, to Nannie Wilson, 23, of Louisa.

ENEMIES SHOOT WEST VIRGINIA ATTORNEY

Williamson, W. Va.—S. U. G. Rhodes, former prosecuting attorney of Mingo county, was dragged from his mule at Devor, W. Va., Saturday night and shot through the face with a rifle, after addressing a political meeting at Beech Creek, near Devor.

OIL DEVELOPMENT.

A well has been completed on the Demp Finley farm in the new Glenwood pool near the Boyd-Lawrence line and it is reported to be good for about ten barrels.

D. T. Evans will soon drill in his first well in the Glenwood pool.

Various Items of Political Interest

President Frost and wife, Republicans, for 28 years at the head of Berea College, Berea, Ky., have declared for Cox on account of the League of Nations.

Earl Smith Joselyn, Harvard undergraduate, who, last spring, won the $5,000 prize offered by the Republican National Committee for the best suggestion for the national platform, is out for Gov. James M. Cox and the League of Nations.

Allan A. Ryan, New York business man, was so incensed by a sacrilegious cartoon in Harper's Weekly against Gov. Cox that he contributed $25,000 to the Democratic committee.

West Virginia will give its electoral vote to Cox and Koons will win for Governor.

Indications are that a landslide is on the way that will elect Gov. Cox President of the United States.

Lieutenant Governor Ballard's brother-in-law at Louisville has deserted Harding at Louisville and will vote for Cox. The Courier Journal has been publishing the names of scores of Louisville Republicans who are doing the same thing.

Mrs. Christine Bradley South bitterly opposed the nomination of Dick Ernst, because he bolted her father when he was nominated on the Republican ticket.

Louisa Will Vote on Street Intersection Bonds

At the election next Tuesday the citizens of Louisa will vote on issuing $15,000 in 10-year bonds to pay for paving the intersections of the streets. A separate ballot will be used.

Those favoring the bond issue will stamp in the square opposite "Yes." This bond issue is absolutely necessary. If it should fail we would have the spectacle of streets paved in front of all private property and left unpaved where the streets cross each other. We do not believe any citizen wants this to happen.

A proposition of this kind can be voted on only at a November election.

WOMEN REQUEST THAT SEARCH FOR SLAYER OF TEACHER BE CONTINUED

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 25.—Signed by the officials of the Delphi Club, the Matinee Music Club, the Woman's Club of Paducah and the Woman's Hospital League, a letter to Governor Morrow asking that the murderer of Miss Laura Parsons, Pine Mountain Settlement School teacher, be brought to justice, has been made public by Mrs. Edmund M. Post, president of the Delphi Club. The letter says:

"We, the undersigned clubwomen of Kentucky, earnestly request you to press investigation and bring to justice the murderer of our sister Kentucky woman, Miss Laura Parsons."

"Not only has a splendid young life been crushed out, but the dissemination of knowledge useful to the mountain women will be seriously handicapped if the young women engaged in this work are not given proof of protection which our State can and must do."

"We feel that the women of the State are entitled to a full explanation of the reasons of the delay in this administration of justice."

HALLOWE'EN DANCE.

A masque ball is being given by the Tri-K Club Thursday evening at their club rooms. Quite a number of visitors came from nearby towns for the occasion.

ASHLAND PAPER REACHES THE LOWEST DEPTHS

The Ashland Daily Independent, a Republican newspaper, started right on the League of Peace when it published this editorial on May 8, 1920:

"Stand By The League."

The G. O. P. should have a care how far it goes in discrediting the league of peace. Every sentiment of that league is Republican, because it is on the side of humanity. Especially should it beware that partisan difference should not become involved in the treaty. Standing by that covenant will be alongside of the crushing of secession and the abolition of slavery and will prove one of the noblest memories of party service. The G. O. P. cannot afford to divide its ranks by fighting the League. It is not now a question of details, but one of generalities. While the covenant may not suit all, its general idea does, and it is the general idea and not the phraseology that is to become the culmination of the league. If we are to trust our progress to human statement wholly, it will be tardy and uncertain. The G. O. P. ought not to permit that. The covenant will drive war from the earth and the Republican party will stand for that heroically."

But after Harding was nominated the Independent began to try to follow him, wiggling and wobbling, until finally it has pitched headlong over the precipice that marks the line between decency and infamy.

In Wednesday's issue it takes a paragraph from the League of Nations in regard to the traffic in women and children of some countries in Europe and misconstrues it in a manner that amounts to the vilest slander against every Christian statesman that had any part in formulating the League. The Independent says it means the League will only "supervise" the traffic, insinuating that it will make no effort to stop the horrible business. Every fair-minded person knows the President of the United States, Lloyd George, Clemenceau, and the other leading statesmen of the world will exert their power through the League to end this evil. The diplomatic language used in the covenant was necessary, just as it was necessary touching other matters where the conflicting ideas of 50 nations are to be brought together in order to correct and stop the things that are cursing the world.

The desperation following the trifling Cox meeting in Ashland is not sufficient justification for the Independent's filthy editorial.

LOWER SAND OIL FIELDS INCREASE

Barboursville, Ky.—Deep sand petroleum districts of Eastern Kentucky are showing a great increase, especially through the counties of Lawrence, Johnson, Magoffin, Floyd and Knott. The Standard Oil company's new classification of Kentucky crude, raising the price of 38-gravity to $4.50 a barrel, affects much of the production from that region, which is also a center of deep-sand gas development at this time. Profic gas fields have been opened in several counties sufficient in showing to justify the belief that Eastern Kentucky will at some time exceed West Virginia in gas production.

In Johnson county two good gas wells have been completed near Paintsville, the Commonwealth Petroleum company getting a fifteen-barrel producer on the Foster lease and the Kentucky-Virginia Oil company making a strike of fifteen barrels on the Davis lease. In the Johnson-Magoffin district the Mid-South Oil company, on the Conley, has a well reported starting at 100 barrels. The Mine Fork Petroleum company, on the Conley, has a good showing at its latest completion.

Lawrence county has also made a good showing in new production, late completions including the Cumberland Petroleum company's No. 1, Kelly, rated at twenty barrels. The Kentucky Counties Oil company, on the Skaggs, has a ten-barrel.

In Floyd county the Pennegrade Oil & Gas company has seven rigs up and wells drilling near Maytown. Their compressor plant and pipe line, which is to carry gas to Louisville, will be completed in a few days, according to advices from that section.

The Liberty Carbon company is drilling near Maytown, where it operates a large carbon plant. On left fork of Beaver creek the Piney-Elkhorn Coal company is down 1,400 feet. On the right fork of Beaver creek the Keystone Gas company and Midas Oil & Gas company are drilling new wells. At Osborne, one mile from Maytown, Davis Bros. of West Virginia have purchased a large acreage and will build a carbon plant. In this section, adjoining the gas field, a number of oil wells are pumping, a branch line of the Cumberland Pipe company having been extended to production.

In Knott county, Beaver creek field, the Carter Oil company, a Standard subsidiary, and others are now producing oil and recently drilled wells indicate quite an extension of the Floyd-Knott pool. North of Prestonsburg the Moore Oil & Gas company's test reached the Berea sand with only a showing in the Weir sand. This well will probably be drilled to the Corniferous. East of Prestonsburg, between Bull creek and Cow creek, the Fleming interests have a standard rig up for a deep test. They recently completed a half million cubic-foot gas well half a mile from the new location.

COUNTIES CAN NOT LEND ROAD FUNDS

COURT OF APPEALS KILLS THE LAW DESIGNED TO HASTEN ROAD BUILDING.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 26.—Fifty-six of the sixty-five projects in the primary system of State highways established by the last Legislature will be without funds for construction is the opinion of Joe S. Boggs, State Highway Engineer, if the opinion of Judge Thomas in the recent case of James R. Rash against W. W. Crick, Judge of Hopkins-co., is not modified.

This opinion, Boggs says, invalidates provisions of Section 11 of Chapter 159 of the Acts of 1920, which was passed for the purpose of enabling the counties to loan money to the State.

Mr. Boggs made a statement today in which he clearly sets forth the effect that the decision of Judge Thomas has on the road law and it follows:

"The recent decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals in a memorandum opinion enjoining Hopkins county from loaning $150,000 of their bond issue to the Department of State Roads and Highways for use in the construction of the Dixie Bee Line in that county, in my mind clearly invalidates the provisions of Section 11, Chapter 159 of the Acts of 1920."

"This section of the new road law was so drafted that any county in the Commonwealth desiring to hasten the construction of a State primary road could, by paying the cost thereof, have same constructed prior to the time that the State had funds available for that purpose and receive reimbursement out of the State road fund when the project of which the road was a part was completed in its entirety, and at that time Clay county had offered $200,000; Lee county, $100,000; Clark county, $120,000; Hopkins county, $150,000; Lawrence county, $125,000; Pike county, $200,000; Johnson county, $200,000; and Ohio county, $40,000, totaling $1,037,000 that was immediately available for use in the construction of important roads in these several counties."

These offers have heretofore been accepted by the commission, but in my judgment this decision of the Court of Appeals clearly invalidates them, and unless these various counties are willing for the above mentioned funds to be contributed to the State it may possibly be several years before such roads are built."

"This decision, taken in connection with the defeat of the whiskey tax, leaves the State road fund in a precarious condition as concerns future construction, for after deducting a reasonable sum for maintenance purposes and the liquidation of State aid claims, there will be less than $2,000,000 available—hardly sufficient to match Federal aid for the next two years—and will necessarily confine State expenditures to the nine projects in Kentucky that have been heretofore approved by the Department of Agriculture, these being the Mayo Trail, Ashland to Pikeville; Midland Trail, Ashland to Wickliffe; Kentucky-Virginia Highway, Lexington by way of Whitesburg to the Virginia line; Pineville-Williamson, W. Va.; Eastern Dixie Highway from Corbin to Jellico, Tenn.; Corbin to Cumberland Gap; Jackson Highway from Louisville to Tennessee State line; Dixie Bee Line from Henderson to Tennessee State line, and the Ohio River Road from Louisville to Paducah, leaving fifty-six other projects without funds available unless county authorities and the citizens interested are willing to donate sufficient funds for immediate construction."

"It is therefore very necessary that if the people of Kentucky desire the early construction of the primary system of roads laid out by the last General Assembly that some steps be taken in the near future for an enlargement of the revenues of the department and the levying of some form of tax that is constitutional."

J. Isralsky's Store Robbed Sunday Night

Jake's store was robbed Sunday night. The amount of loss is not known, but it is believed five suit cases full of goods were carried away, in addition to outfits of clothing put on by the thieves.

A blood hunt was brought from Kenova and he tracked the guilty parties to the river's edge, about a mile and a half below Louisa. Here they discarded their old shoes and some clothing, and also tags from the goods. A boat was used to cross the river and the parties left on a night train from Fort Gay.

On Monday night three boys were arrested at Catlettsburg and are now in jail at Louisa. They admit their guilt, but deny that anybody else was with them. Their names are Buck Carter and John Swinme of Catlettsburg, and a Galloway boy of Russell. They are from 16 to 19 years of age.

About $160 worth of the goods were recovered, but they are soiled and unsalable.

CONGRESSMAN FIELDS.

Hon. W. J. Fields has been the friend of every pensioner in his district, as well as every other citizen. He has never failed to give prompt and earnest attention to every request from any constituent, regardless of politics. To lose his faithful services would be a loss to the entire people of this district.

KIN OF MEN WHO KILLED EACH OTHER SHARE GRIEF

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 21.—Members of the families of Charles Bentley and Mallie Thornbury, two Pikeville citizens and former close friends, who were shot each other in a moment of anger in the Pike Hotel Sunday, joined one another in grief at the funeral of Bentley today.

Flowers from Thornbury's relatives were placed on the coffin with those of Bentley's relatives and ministers from the various churches here assisted in the service, which was held in the Pikeville Baptist church. Thornbury's funeral was held Thursday.

MINER LOSES SIGHT.

Robt. Peterman, of Walbridge, this county, has been rendered totally blind by an accident that occurred in a coal mine at Borderland recently. A charge of dynamite exploded while he was near the location. His face was considerably burned. He had only one good eye and it was destroyed by the explosion. He is an honest, industrious man, loyal to his employers, and his misfortune is deeply deplored. He has a family.

TWO DEPUTIES INDICTED IN FLOYD FOR MURDER

Prestonsburg, Ky.—A sworn statement made by Gerard Richmond on his death-bed caused the arrest of Deputy Sheriffs J. Collins and Hager, and an indictment of murder against them by a special grand jury here this week.

Richmond, who was killed at Weeksbury, this county, swore before he died that he was accosted by the officers and was told to consider himself under arrest. Because he did not stop instantly, Richmond asserted, the officers shot him in the back. Collins and Hager were given hearing for bail Thursday.

Lawrence County Boy Dies in U. S. Hospital

The following letter was received by Mrs. Lissie White after the death of her son Raymond which occurred a few days ago:

U. S. Naval Hospital,
Naval Operating Base,
Hampton Roads, Virginia,
October 21, 1920.

Mrs. Lissie White,

Buchanan, Ky.

Dear Madam:—It is my sad duty to inform you of the death of your son, Raymond White, carpenter mates second class, U. S. Navy, occurring at this hospital five p. m. October 19, 1920, from bronchial pneumonia.

Everything possible both from a medical standpoint and a point of comfort was done for him, but to no avail. He was under the care of a medical officer with an abundance of experience, also that of a trained graduate female nurse, assisted by hospital corpsmen, who were ever present administering to his wants and needs.

Prior to your son's death he was visited daily by the hospital chaplain and was spiritually well prepared to die.

Present at the time of death were his father and brother, also his medical officer and the chaplain.

Assuring you of my deepest sympathy in your great loss and trusting that if I can be of further service to you that you will have no hesitancy in communicating with me, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

JAMES C. POYONY, Captain,
M. C. U. S. Navy in Command.

Mine Official Murdered When Walking Along Road

Williamson, W. Va.—John Yates, Superintendent of the Gates mine of the Crystal Block Mining Company, was shot and killed by unknown persons last Saturday morning when walking along the Mingo county road, near the company store at Gates, 10 miles east of Williamson.

Federal troops on duty in the Mingo county strike zone immediately were sent from Sprigg, near Gates, to establish patrols in the woods, which flank the road and from which the shots came.

Bloodhounds were hurried from Williamsburg to the scene in an effort to trace those responsible for the shooting.

For Robbing Postoffice at Louisa in 1915

Covington, Ky.—In United States Court Leo Moser was given one year and one day in the penitentiary at Atlanta for breaking into the postoffice at Louisa, Ky. Moser told the court he served a sentence in the penitentiary for breaking into a postoffice. His offense at Louisa was committed in April, 1915.

GYPSY SMITH FAVORS LEAGUE.

The famous revivalist now holding a big meeting in Louisville says: "If the League of Nations prevents one war it proves its right to existence. No man can be a follower of Jesus Christ and not be a lover of peace and a propagandist for peace. He was the Prince of Peace, the author of peace and the bringer of peace, and just in proportion as we are faithful to Him and the great principles for which He died we shall do all in our power to promote the peace of the world."

Mr. A. B. Ayres, president of the Union Gas & Oil company will arrive in Louisa today on his way to upper Blaine. He has just returned from Montana.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN ON SUBJECT OF EQUALITY

Editor Big Sandy News,
Louisa, Ky.

Dear Sir:—The race question is getting a good deal of attention in this campaign. I notice there has been almost no mention of it in your columns. Enclosed find a part of one of Abraham Lincoln's speeches which everybody ought to read, no matter which side of the question they may be on.

Please publish this and send a bill to my address.

Lincoln and The Negro.

I will say, then, that I am not nor never have been in favor of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the white and black races; that I am not nor never have been in favor of making voters or jurors of negroes nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people. And I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the white and the black races which I believe will forever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality, and inasmuch as they cannot so live while they do remain together, there must be the position as superior and inferior, and as much as any other man, I am in favor of having the position of superior assigned to the white race.—From a speech by Abraham Lincoln at Charleston, Ill., Sept. 18, 1858.

CAR ALLOTMENT IS ORDERED CHANGED

Washington, Oct. 23.—The Interstate Commerce Commission discontinued today preferential allotment of coal cars for fuel transportation to the Great Lakes district in three sections of the country.

In addition, the commission announced coal car allotments may be omitted against wagon mines and mines producing stripper coal until further notice.

Coal at lake ports for transshipment to the Northwest has been delivered in sufficient quantities, officials said, to permit a reduction of this movement and a greater supply will be available in the districts affected by the order and also for public utilities.

MOVING PICTURE REELS ON SEX HYGIENE

The problem of proper instruction on Sex Hygiene has always been a perplexing one. Every one has felt that it should be given, but scarcely anyone has felt capable of giving it until our boys have been allowed to grow to manhood without the wholesome scientific knowledge on this all important subject that they are entitled to have.

The Y. M. C. A. through our District Secretary, Mr. Hall, has finally been able to secure Dr. Whittenberg of the State Board of Health, who will come to Louisa this coming Sunday afternoon to give an address and show moving pictures on this subject.

Dr. Whittenberg will first give a talk to both men and women on Public Health and Sanitation at the Eldorado Theatre beginning promptly at 3:30.

At the close of this lecture he will show moving pictures and deliver an accompanying lecture to men and boys over fourteen on Sex Hygiene and the origin of life. This lecture offers an unusual opportunity to clear up hazy, morbid and incorrect ideas on this subject.

There will be no admission charges as this is a part of the yearly program of the district Y. M. C. A., put on in co-operation with the pastors and good citizens of Louisa, and nobody can afford to miss it.

TO THE VOTERS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY

You will find my name on the School Ticket to be voted for in the November election for membership on the Board of Education. I believe in a progressive and forward step in bettering the conditions of our county public schools. I am not making this race in the interest of any candidate for Superintendent of Schools, but in the interest of the children of Lawrence county, and I believe in carrying out the spirit of the law in taking the education of our children out of politics.

JNO. H. MCCLURE.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

The High School students of Kentucky Normal College will give a masquerade party at the College auditorium next Saturday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock.

A Beautiful, Long-lived Roof— Certain-teed Shingles

Certain-teed Asphalt Shingles, in subdued reds or greens, add an attractive touch to the appearance of any home. Their surface does not wear off, wash off or change color and they do not crack or break.

In addition to their beauty, they provide weather protection and are, at the same time, fire-retarding and spark-proof.

Their cost is low compared with other equally high grade types of roofing and they are guaranteed for ten years.

In addition to shingles, Certain-teed Roofing comes in rolls, mineral-surfaced red or green—much like the shingles in appearance—and also in the smooth surface staple gray kind.

Like all products bearing the Certain-teed label, Certain-teed Roofings are the highest quality.

See a Certain-teed dealer the next time you need roofing. He can help you select the best kind of roofing for your purposes and sell you what you need at a real saving in cost.

Harding Is Exposed for Aiding Disloyal Plot

New York, Oct. 29.—A sensational expose by Dr. Stephen S. Wise, distinguished American Rabbi, of the part said to have been played by Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican Presidential nominee, in the effort to discredit President Wilson as the spokesman for the United States in the Paris Peace Conference was printed here today by the New York Evening Post.

Mr. Harding, according to Rabbi Wise, was a member of the Republican Senatorial Cabal that sought to undermine Mr. Wilson's peace negotiations in Paris through a series of newspaper articles in Paris newspapers that vilified the President and exalted the Republican Senators.

While the President was negotiating with European Powers in Paris, Dr. Wise charges, these articles, written by Judson C. Welliver, were published in the Echo de Paris, and also in Le Matin. Welliver now is acting as Mr. Harding's personal press representative.

Clemenceau Called Halt. The purport of the Welliver articles, Dr. Wise asserts, was that any ultimate negotiations with the United States would have to be made with Republican Senators and with Republican members of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations; that the President was negligible; that he had passed from power, and that only the Republican majority in the Senate had the power to pass on the treaty.

This manufactured sentiment, according to Dr. Wise, discredited the President with British and French representatives in Versailles to such an extent that they all were at sea in their negotiations with Mr. Wilson.

Finally so bitter, both personally and politically, did the articles become that Premier Clemenceau was compelled to stop publication.

Welliver Now Press Agent. In large measure, Dr. Wise says, the President's loss of prestige in Europe resulted from Welliver's articles and not from his conduct of the negotiations.

Welliver now is Mr. Harding's press agent, a member of his official party and one of his "intellectual bodyguards," Dr. Wise comments, and he asks the direct question of Mr. Harding and Senator Henry C. Lodge: "Who paid the tolls for Welliver's articles and who furnished the inspiration?" Furthermore, Dr. Wise, who left for Europe one day after the President's departure for Paris, says that his talks with Government leaders in England and France convinced him that Mr. Lodge and his secret plotters had made it clear to the nations that Mr. Wilson would have to treat with the Senate Cabal and that they could consider him and his negotiations as negligible.

Weak Mr. Harding.

If you will take the pains to investigate, you will find that Warren G. Harding is the weakest man, intellectually and in point of stability that ever has been nominated for the Presidency. He has done nothing notable in his whole life. His utterances in this campaign are laughable. He wiggles and wobbles like a candidate for constable might be expected to do if trying to dodge his constituents. It would be a shame to have such a man for President.

To Build Roads.

The Democratic National administration under Woodrow Wilson is the first to give federal aid to good roads. Right here in the Big Sandy Valley we already have one of these roads surveyed and located the entire length of the valley. It will not cost the citizens of these counties anything to build or maintain these roads. Others will be built later under the same plan.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF KENTUCKY

The National Democratic Headquarters is imperatively in need of funds with which to finance the present campaign and has appealed to me to offer an opportunity to the Democrats to aid. This I am pleased to do. Every voter, man or woman, who earnestly desires the election of our ticket is requested to give without delay to the Editor of this paper, who will immediately forward it to John R. Downing, State Treasurer for National Committee, Citizens Union National Bank, Louisville, such voluntary contribution as he or she may care to make. Same will be forwarded promptly to National Headquarters in New York, with name of donor. Contributions, no matter how small, will be accepted and appreciated.

A hearty response to this call is confidently expected.
J. N. CAMDEN,
National Committeeman.

Thrown into Jail for Asking Harding a Question

At Baltimore recently a lawyer from Boston or Washington was listening to Warren G. Harding speak. Not being able to understand where he stood on the League of Nations the lawyer asked Mr. Harding if he favored throwing the League into the scrap pile. Mr. Harding said he did not like to be disturbed when speaking and an officer arrested the attorney and rushed him to jail and kept him there until next day. He has sued for large damages. He did absolutely nothing but ask a plain question, and he did it courteously.

Gov. Cox has been asked questions a thousand times in this campaign while speaking and he answers every one like the fearless, honest man he is. He invites the people to ask questions and would not permit anyone to be arrested if such an outrage were attempted.

ANOTHER CASE.

At Pikeville recently Tom Hatcher, one of Pikeville's most prominent citizens, was arrested and thrown into jail for an "offense" similar to the Baltimore case. Gov. Ed. Morrow while speaking there made an incorrect statement about something John Waugh said in a speech at Pikeville a few days before. Mr. Hatcher said quietly: "He did not say that, Ed, he simply read something from a negro paper and did not comment on it." Morrow called Hatcher a liar and Hatcher said, "You are another." Then he was arrested and put into jail, but Morrow was not molested.

Mr. Hatcher has sued the Sheriff for $100,000.

No Bank Failures Now.

Under the old Republican currency laws there was an average of one bank failure every 21 days for 50 years in the United States. The Federal Reserve Banks started in October, 1914. In 1915 there were only 5 bank failures. In 1916 and 1917 there were 3. In 1918 there was 1 and in 1919 not a single failure.

Also, there were three disastrous panics within that time. Under the Federal Reserve law there has been no panic nor even a flurry, although we have passed through the greatest financial strain and the most panicky period ever experienced.

This one law entitles the Democratic party to the support of the common people and the smaller business men for all time.

It took a man with the courage of Woodrow Wilson to whip Wall Street in that fight.

Ask the National Banks in your county what the Federal Reserve System is worth to them and to the people if you want to know the truth.

Harding's backers, Penrose and Morgan and DuPont, etc., want the law repealed so they can again get control of money and credits.

Under the old law every bank was required to keep a large sum of money in reserve, and a great part of this was kept with a few big banks in New York City. This gave those big banks so much money to use that the Wall Street financiers controlled every line of business they wanted to control.

Now the country is divided into twelve districts and all that reserve money has been moved from those New York banks to the 12 U. S. banks, distributed throughout the United States.

Those rich Wall Street financiers are putting millions in the campaign for Harding. Why? Are they patriots and believe they are serving their country? No! They are greedy money grabbers and wherever they invest a few millions they expect to reap many millions. Harding's their tool.

Banks Have Not Stopped Loaning Money

Republican politicians are telling people that the banks have quit loaning money. This is absolutely false. No National Bank has quit loaning money since the Federal Reserve System began business in October 1914. There are other reasons why notes are turned down by banks, but not because they can not get the money. A few months ago the 12 Federal Reserve Banks advised all the banks in the country to quit loaning to speculators and non-essential lines of business in order to stop speculation and profiteering. They only advised, as they can not compel the banks to do anything of this kind. Most of the banks took the advice, however, and the results have been excellent. The enemies of the great Federal Reserve System are trying every way to injure it, because the plan is to repeal it or ruin it with amendments if Harding is elected.

Want to Switch Taxes from Rich to Poor

President Wilson three times asked the present Republican Congress to reduce the war taxes. They refused, but advocated what they call a "consumption tax" to take the place of the excess profits tax. This means to place a small tax on everything you eat and wear. If you buy a package of sugar you must pay for a stamp to go on it. Same way about flour, meat, salt, a paper of pins, thread, and everything a person uses. This plan makes a poor person with a good appetite pay more war taxes than John D. Rockefeller who for several years has been able to eat only as much as a child.

Now wouldn't that be a fine scheme to make the masses of the people pay the taxes now paid out of large incomes as an excess profits tax? That is what the rich men are demanding who are backing Harding.

ERNST AGAINST PEOPLE'S RIGHTS

Lifelong Defense of Money Gives Him Wrong View- point As Legislator

One of the features of the political campaign in Kentucky has been the effort of the Republicans to force through the election of Richard P. Ernst, millionaire corporation attorney of Covington and Cincinnati, over Senator J. C. W. Beckham. To this end all kinds of sordid influences are being employed.

The Republicans are sending to the Masons literature of anti-Catholic character, and to the Catholics they are sending the opposite.

With labor the Republicans are attempting to undermine Senator Beckham on the alleged pretext that he is unfair to labor, while the real reason is that Senator Beckham has for years been a leader of the moral forces in this state.

As between him and Richard P. Ernst there is but one choice which labor can successfully make. Senator Beckham has a labor record that no other public officer in Kentucky can compare with.

Led in Labor Legislation.

During his administration as Governor he initiated and was responsible for all of the financial labor legislation in the state. This included:

The Child Labor Law—at that time a model for the nation.
Creation of the office of Labor Inspector.

The inspection of factories and all establishments employing labor to insure safety and sanitary conditions.

The Mine Inspection Law safeguarding the work of the miners.

The creation of sentiment for the eight-hour day.

Building of the new State Capitol with union labor only.

An act forbidding child labor in coal mines.

Mr. Ernst, of course, never having been in office, has no labor record, but his life's work indicates clearly that in his mind the rights of the people are secondary.

Ernst Means Corporation.

The name Ernst is synonymous with the Union Light and Power Company and the South Covington Railway Company, and other public utility corporations in Covington and Cincinnati. Through his long connection with them Mr. Ernst is bound to be antagonistic to the rights of the people, because as the lobbyist of these concerns he has always fought the public interests.

Recently Will H. Hays, Republican National Committeeman, claimed that the Republicans would gather the senatorship from this state. The G. O. P. has a special anxiety for so doing. They know that Mr. Ernst fits harmoniously into the pattern of things favored by Penrose, Lodge, Brandegee, and the real reactionary leaders of the Republican Senate, clique. It is to clinch the control of the masses through big business that makes the Republicans anxious to get men of Ernst type into the United States Senate.

Part of Galvin Machine.

Mr. Ernst's chief representative in this state is Morris Galvin. Morris Galvin captured the control of the Kentucky Senate in 1920 in order to get a job for his friend and protege, James A. Scott. He put Mr. Scott on the Tax Commission. It is of tremendous advantage to an attorney to have a friend on that commission. Mr. Galvin has one of the richest practices before the Tax Commission, and he is the close friend of Mr. Ernst, one of the richest men in this state.

Mr. Galvin is also boss of that political machine which in Covington and Newport defied regulatory laws of this state, even after prohibition became a national condition. Mr. Ernst can not escape identification with this element in public government. His entire campaign is managed by one of the most important lieutenants of the former wet machinery in this state.

Mr. Ernst has no public record of any kind at all, but he pretends to be a great friend of education. Senator Beckham does not have to pretend. His record speaks for itself. Just a few educational achievements follow:

Beckham's Educational Record.
Increased school term from five to six months without raising the state tax rate, though it cost the state several hundred thousand dollars to do it.

Initiated and accomplished the establishment of the two State Normal Schools, one at Richmond and one at Bowling Green.

Initiated and forced the passage of the first uniform school text-book law against a hostile legislature.

Accomplished the passage of the first law in this state fixing a maximum price on school books, thus saving thousands of dollars to the parents of school children in the state.

Increased public school levy from 22 to 26 1/2 cents without raising the tax rate. He saved so much money in the sinking fund that he retired the state debt and put a large portion of the sinking fund levy to use for educational purposes.

Sponsored the passage of the Day Act to prevent white and colored children from attending the same schools together. The people of Kentucky ought to ask themselves whether Mr. Ernst would have had the courage to sanction a law to separate the races in the public schools. The answer is easy. He would not. He would not have dared to offend the 160,000 black men and women in Kentucky on whom Mr. Ernst depends for the majority of his support. His dependence on this negro vote would have deprived him of the courage to comply with the sentiments of the real Kentuckians.

BURGLAR ALARM

In keeping with our policy of providing every means of safety we have just installed an electric burglar alarm system in our bank that starts a loud siren whistle when any attempt is made by burglars to get into our vault. Also, in case of daylight hold-up the "Bug" hollows for help. It is a wonderful system.

Also, we carry insurance against burglary of every form. There is no chance for this Bank or its depositors to lose. Deposit your money with us.

AUTUMN LEAVES.

TWICE PROVEN

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's Louisa evidence—doubly proven.

Mrs. Frank Pigg, Water St., Louisa, says: "I suffered for a long time with many distressing symptoms of kidney complaint. The most annoying ailment was a severe pain in my back and a dull bearing down feeling through my loins which at times was almost unbearable. I was weak and languid, constantly tired and had no ambition. My back was in such a bad condition, I couldn't stoop over without severe pain and it was a terrible effort for me to rise. I was restless at night and couldn't sleep. Morning I was just as tired as when I went to bed. I was nervous and suffered from severe dizzy spells. My kidneys acted irregular, too. I finally took Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at the Louisa Drug Co. and the pains in my back and loins left. The action of my kidneys became normal and the other distressing symptoms were removed."

OVER SIX YEARS LATER, Mrs. Pigg said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me is still lasting and I now enjoy the best of health."

"HOW WELL YOU LOOK"

When Your Blood is Rich and Red People Notice Your Good Health.

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS HEALTH

Pale Face, Dull Eyes, Drooping Shoulders, Result From Clogged Blood.

If your blood is in bad shape it shows up in your looks and feeling. When your blood is rich with red corpuscles your color is better—your lips are red, eyes wide open and bright; your good feeling shows in your actions.

Common sense will tell you that if weak, thin blood makes you look lifeless, it lowers your vitality. If your vitality is low you have little power to resist disease germs. Men, women and children with rich, red blood are able to fight off the germs which bring severe illness.

When you feel run down and weak, with no appetite and no ambition, take Pepto-Mangan for awhile. It is a great blood building tonic. You should begin to feel better within a few days.

Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer, because they have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package. Advertisement.

Miss Gladys Wellman, who is attending high school in Louisa spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents at this place.

Friday, October 22 death entered the home of Hamilton Swetnam and took from him his loving mother, aunt Serena. She was very old and her death was due to old age. Before marriage she was a Patrick, born and raised in Magoffin county. She died at her old home where she has lived and raised her family, all of whom are married and have homes of their own, except Hamilton, who lived with his mother.

Willie Swetnam of Whitesburg, Ga., attorney J. T. Swetnam and Mrs. Lou Ferguson of this place are all her children.

Aunt Rena was a good woman and loved by all who knew her.

A FRIEND.

IN MEMORY

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Young and took from them their darling baby.

Mysie May Young was born July 31, 1920, and died Oct. 17, 1920. She was sick about two weeks. All was done that loving hands could do, but God saw best to take her home. God said, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Weep not, dear father and mother, but prepare to meet your sweet baby in that world where parting never comes.

She was laid to rest in the graveyard overlooking the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Young.

ARTICLE 10 AND OTHERS.

The League of Nations covenant is too lengthy to publish in full in this newspaper, but we print herewith the preamble, showing the object of the League. Also, Article X, that is so badly misrepresented in this campaign.

And as a matter of further interest we give Article 21 which shows that no rights are to be surrendered by the United States.

The High Contracting Parties agree to this Covenant of the League of Nations

In order to promote international co-operation and to achieve international peace and security

- by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war,
- by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations,
- by the firm establishment of the understandings of international law as the actual rule of conduct among Governments, and
- by the maintenance of justice and a scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized peoples with one another.

ARTICLE 10.

The Members of the League undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all Members of the League. In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression the Council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled.

ARTICLE 21.

Nothing in this Covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace.

President Wilson declares that our boys will not be sent to Europe or elsewhere to fight unless Congress sends them, just as always has been the case and always must be true under our constitution.

Gov. Cox solemnly pledges himself that not one United States boy shall ever be sent out to fight if he is President, unless Congress so decrees.

Gov. Cox says he favors any and all reservations that will make clear to the world the fact that this country is not to surrender any rights or be drawn into European war. Here is a reservation offered by the Democrats in the Senate and approved by President Wilson. Gov. Cox favors this and more along the same line if the people want it:

In a letter dated January 26, 1920, to Senator Hitchcock, President Wilson returned, with his approval, five reservations to the League Covenant which had been submitted by the Senator in an effort to harmonize the Senate. The President used these words:

"I am happy to be able to add, therefore, that I have once more gone over the reservations proposed by yourself, the copy of which I return herewith, and am glad to say that I can accept them as they stand."

The reservation, thus approved, relating to Article X, was as follows:

That the advice mentioned in Article X of the Covenant of the League, which the Council may give them as to employment of their naval and military forces, is merely advice which each member nation is free to accept or reject, according to the conscience and judgment of its then existing government; and in the United States this advice can be accepted only by action of the Congress at the time in being. Congress alone under the Constitution of the United States having the power to declare war.

Governor Cox's position has been repeatedly stated as follows, to quote his own words:

"I am in favor of going in to put an end to war for all time. * * * I shall endeavor to meet all reasonable desires for proper reservations which are offered in sincerity and not merely presented as trumped up for political purposes. My heart is in this fight and I shall put forth all effort and make any reasonable concession to win it that we may obtain membership in the League for America."

And yet, in the face of all these facts the Republican politicians take the slim chance of fooling people by brazenly falsifying about the meaning of the League of Nations, the greatest peace plan ever put on foot.

Another falsehood is that England has six votes to one for the United States.

All decisions are made by the Council, which has nine members—the five great Allied Nations (one of which is the United States) and four smaller ones chosen by the Assembly. Each has one vote only, and all decisions must be unanimous or they remain unsettled. Here is the article in the League covering that point:

At meetings of the Council, each Member of the League represented on the Council shall have one vote, and may have not more than one Representative.

At meetings of the Assembly each Member of the League shall have one vote, and may have not more than three Representatives.

The League agrees to boycott any nations that go to war, by refusing to sell them food, arms or ammunition. No country can successfully carry on war under such restrictions. It is believed that this alone will prevent war.

The United States or any other nation can easily withdraw from the League. While two years is required to formally complete the withdrawal, the first step taken in this direction really puts a nation out of co-operation and virtually ends its membership.

Isn't it worth while to try this great plan for securing peace throughout the world?

We don't ask you to take our word for these matters. Read the covenant for yourselves. It is plain and simple. This is the only chance we will have to vote the United States into the League of Peace.

THE FINANCIAL SIDE.

Aside from the greatest of all results of the League—Peace for the World—the United States will lose all the advantages gained in the treaty at Paris if we fail to enter the League. Counted financially, Prof. Irving Fisher says we would lose more than Mr. Harding would need to run this entire government in all departments for four years.

If Cox is elected we will enter the League with a guarantee of no fighting abroad, and with money enough coming from Germany to more than pay all the expenses of the United States government four years.

This will enable us to reduce taxes to a low figure. But if Harding should be elected we will pay billions for running the government, we lose the German war money, and no tax reduction will be possible.

Senator Harding's stand for separate peace means that Germany will be the victor. Harding has scrapped the victory bought with the blood of our comrades. If he is elected Germany will have gained from an American President what she never could have won on the battlefield. Never let it be said that the soldiers of this great country ever lowered the American flag in order to win a hyphenated vote.

A separate peace with Germany means that our great country, victorious in arms against our enemy, will go begging for a treaty of peace that will be dishonorable in every way, and that future generations will forever condemn this generation for allowing such a disgraceful thing to happen.

Keep faith with our dead who died that peace might endure, but not the peace that we might go begging for, but the Treaty of Peace as it now stands, and the League of Nations that will forever end wars.

The rejection of the Treaty is the rejection of victory. It will mean the end to a programme for small armies. If we are prudent, should the American people reject

are here in a profusion of charming styles

No matter how carefully you have chosen your suit—no matter how fine and attractive it is, without a blouse in harmony, the effect is not nearly so effective. The blouse plays an important role in this season's cast of fashionable apparel, and to slight it is to mar the costume. It is easy to choose aright from our showing, for you not only have the advantage of wonderful variety—but a variety that is made up entirely of authentic styles that are as wearable as they are beautiful.

Offering the Newest Costume Shades

In addition to the staple shades that hold their popularity from one season to the other, you may choose from such new colorings as Miami, Aztec, Oriental Blue, Oriole and Hindu. The materials are crepe de chine, georgette, satin and duvetyne—and many attractive combinations such as georgette, satin, crepe de chine and satin, and duvetyne with georgette. An unusually large number are made in the fashionable over-blouse style and are trimmed with beads, laces, accordion plaits, and with metallic, chenille and silk embroidery.

this programme for disarmament our Government will take immediate steps to arm itself, that our people shall not be caught ever again unprepared. We should organize a great army, resort to compulsory military service, build and man an invincible navy, regardless of the billions of dollars they must cost annually to American taxpayers.

The newspapers and the people have not yet ceased to laugh about the remarkable endorsement Senator Harding gave to Senator Borah recently. Mr. Borah is one of the "bitter-enders" who believes in fighting. Therefore he is "dead set" against any sort of a League of Nations or any peace agreements whatever. It was reported that he was going to bolt Harding because of his weak and wobbly attitude on the League question. The appointed time came and Borah did not quite bolt, saying he believed Mr. Harding was against the League. Harding was so delighted that he issued this exuberant and extravagant indorsement:

"I endorse all that Senator Borah has said, and I feel that I can safely endorse all he will say hereafter in this campaign."

No wonder Harding is branded as the weakest man ever nominated by either of the great parties for President. He indorses everything and everybody except Mr. Cox and the League of Peace, and sometimes he wobbles so close to that as to set the public to guessing.

PIKEVILLE

When one who has enjoyed the pleasures and been granted the opportunities afforded by a life reaching through "threescore years and ten" who has been robbed by death of most of the friends of his youth; whose hopes have given place to memories; whose sight is dimmed, whose voice has become weak and quavering, whose laughter has no longer its once hearty ring, and who walks with uncertain steps, when such a one passes hence into the unseen world, we acquiesce in his departure from us, although we may love him tenderly and keenly feel his absence. We think of his death as a deliverance and we do not feel "that nature did him wrong" softly to disengage the vital cord.

But when one in whose veins flows the warm blood of vigorous young manhood, and to whom hope promises "prizes and victories" and many years of youthfulness and happiness, passes out from us to "the undiscovered country" from whose bourn no traveler returns. We are shocked by his death and find it difficult to reconcile ourselves to it. And when we think of the untimely death of Charles Bentley, who was loved by the entire community, we can but deeply sympathize with his family that mourns.

But again death reveals to us that it is a respecter of neither age nor persons. It strikes down the young as well as the old.

The largest crowd of friends that ever gathered at a funeral in Pikeville, gathered at the Baptist church last Thursday to pay their last tribute to Charles and extend their sympathies to the sad and sorrowful relatives. The funeral services were beautiful. The choir rendered beautiful selections. His friends showed their loyalty and love by the vast amount of beautiful flowers.

The loved and the loving brother, husband, father, friend died where manhood's morning almost touches noon.

While yet in love with life and raptured with the world, he passed to silent and pathetic dust. Yet, after all it may be best, just in the happiest, sunniest hour of all the voyage, while longer winds are kissing every sail, to dash against the unseen rock and in an instant hear the billows roar above a sunken ship. For, whether in mid sea or among the breakers of a father shore; a wreck at last must mark the end of each and all. And every life, no matter if its every hour is rich with love and every moment jeweled with a joy, will at its close become a tragedy as sad and deep as can be woven of the work and woof of mystery and death.

He left to mourn his loss, a dear mother, four brothers, two sisters and a lonely, sad and heart-broken wife and three beautiful little girls and a host of friends.

"A young wife stood beside a bier
Pale as a lily in her weeds,
And prayed for death with every tear
A tiny hand stole into hers,
A childish whisper checked her tears.
I said, 'She is not all alone,
The infant's grief will heal her own.'"

ORDINANCE

Street Intersection Bonds, $10,000.00, voted November 3, 1917, not being sufficient, this ordinance for the vote on bonds to complete the paying of street intersections of Louisa, providing for submitting to the qualified voters of the City a second series of bonds, not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars, for the purpose of paying the city's share of the cost of improving the streets at intersections, an indebtedness that can not be met and paid out of the annual income and revenue of the city for the years 1920 and 1921 or many years thereafter without exceeding such annual revenue and income; Now, therefore:

The City Council of the City of Louisa, Ky., do ordain as follows:

Sec. 1. That there be, and there is hereby submitted to the qualified electors of the City of Louisa, at the regular election to be held November 2, 1920, the following proposition, for acceptance or rejection, to-wit:

"Are you in favor of the issue of bonds by the City of Louisa, for not exceeding Fifteen Thousand Dollars for the purpose of paying the City's share of the cost of paying street intersections of the City, and raising by taxation the sum of not exceeding Nineteen hundred and ninety-five dollars annually for the purpose of paying the said bonds and interest?"

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall, immediately upon its adoption, be certified to the Clerk of Lawrence County Court, with direction to place the above proposition on the City ballot.

Sec. 3. This ordinance shall be immediately posted in three public places in the City of Louisa, and shall be published for two consecutive weeks, immediately prior to the said election day, in the Lawrence County Recorder and in the Big Sandy News, newspapers published in the said City of Louisa.

Section 4. The bonds herein proposed to be issued shall not run for longer than ten years.

Sec. 5. The paving of the intersections mentioned herein shall be a continuation of the paving project already commenced and now in process of construction, under same plans and specifications and in the use of the same material now being used, and shall include such sewerage as may be deemed necessary in connection with such paving, and shall include curb and guttering, if deemed necessary, in connection therewith.

Adopted October 5, 1920.

"Gets-It" For Hard or Soft Corns

Satisfaction Guaranteed With This Corn Remover.

Common sense tells anybody that the way to cure a corn is to remove it, and not—banish it entirely.

Not only hard corns and not only soft corns but every kind of corn surrenders to "Gets-It," the national corn remover. It takes weeks or months to grow a corn. It takes just a few seconds to stop its pain with every three drops of "Gets-It." Quickly it loosens so you can peel it right off without the least bruise or hurt, and it is gone!

"Gets-It," the never failing, scarless, money-back corn remover, costs only a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by H. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Bedford's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does its work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

The well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words, "Bedford's Black-Draught."

CORN IS EASILY PUT INTO SILOS

Almost Any Green Crop Can Successfully Be Made Into Palatable Silage.

MOST NUTRIENTS PRESERVED

Can Be Put Into Silo at an Expense Not Above That of Shocking, Husking, Grinding and Shredding—Less Waste in Feeding.

Almost any green crop can be made into silage successfully. Much care, however, must be taken to expel the air from such hollow-stemmed plants as the small cereal grains by cutting fine and packing firmly. Other crops, of which legumes are examples, are deficient in the fermentable constituents needed for palatable silage. On the other hand, a few crops, such as the saccharine sorghums, have so much sugar that unless cut at a more mature stage they have a tendency to produce sour silage.

Food Material From Corn.

In most parts of the United States more food material can be obtained from an acre of corn as silage than from an acre of any other crop that can be grown. Corn is more easily harvested and put into the silo than crops like rye, clover, cowpeas, or alfalfa, and when cut for silage the maximum quantity of nutrients is preserved. Experiments have shown that corn, when silaged, lost 15.6 per cent of the dry matter, against 23.8 per cent when cut for fodder and cured in the field. Moreover, there is less waste in feeding silage than in feeding fodder, since good silage properly fed is all consumed.

Land Ready.

When corn is cut for silage the land is cleared and left ready for another crop sooner than when the corn is shocked or is husked from the stand.

Cutting and Blowing Corn into Silo.

ing stalk. Corn can be put into the silo at a cost not above that of shocking, husking, grinding and shredding. Farmers' Bulletin 578 on "The Making and Feeding of Silage" may be had by addressing the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

SYSTEMS OF FARM ACCOUNTS

Ready-Made Schemes Seldom Bring Out Essential Facts That Farmer Ought to Know.

Farmers, as a rule, are highly individualistic in their methods, and farm business conditions vary widely. Accordingly, ready-made systems of farm accounts seldom bring out all the facts that the farmer ought to know. Systems must be developed to fit each man's requirements, and efforts to shape one's needs according to a prepared system not based primarily on these needs will almost inevitably result in failure.

AVOID BLACKLEG INFECTION

Bodies of Animals Dying of That Disease Should Be Burned or Buried Quite Deeply.

Carcasses of animals dying of blackleg should either be burned or buried deeply. The bodies of such animals constitute the main source of blackleg infection, and it is a dangerous practice to allow a carcass to decay where it falls or merely haul it to some out of the way place. Likewise, skinning or opening a carcass increases the danger of infection.

MAKING PORK WITH ALFALFA

Without Crop of Legume Producer Is Handicapped—Hogs Do Not Relish Bulky Feeds.

The pork producer without alfalfa is handicapped from the start. Hogs are not designed by nature to consume large quantities of bulky feeds as are cattle and sheep, but there seems to be an exception in the case of alfalfa.

WITHOUT AN EQUAL STATES INSPECTOR

TANLAC BUILT HIM UP SO WONDERFULLY HIS FRIENDS ARE NOW TAKING IT.

"Although I have only taken four bottles of Tanlac, it has restored me to perfect health, and I have gained ten pounds in weight," said Floyd E. Whitman, 790 Sawyer St., Akron, Ohio, inspector of the steam heating system for the Goodrich Tire and Rubber Co. "I had been feeling all run-down for a year or more and my whole system seemed to be getting out of order, as the longer I went the worse I got," he continued. "My appetite was so poor I hadn't eaten a bite for breakfast in a year, and although my wife would fix a small lunch for me to carry with me to work, I always brought all or most of it back home in the afternoon. Even when I did manage to eat a little something it caused me to bloat up with gas until I could hardly breathe and I would be in misery for hours afterwards. I could get but little sleep, and always got up feeling tired and worn out as when I went to bed. I just had to drag myself around at my work, and it was only by using great will power I managed to stay on the job at all. Finally I got so bad off that often while at work I would get weak and nervous all of a sudden, become staggered and just have to stop and rest awhile before I could go on again. In fact, I was in such a bad fix I was just about ready to give up and go to bed when Tanlac came to my rescue.

"The boys at the plant saw the condition I was in, and as several of them had taken Tanlac with remarkable results, they advised me to try it. Well, sir, I commenced getting better right away, and now my improvement has been so great that all the boys in my department at the Goodrich plant who felt like they needed a little building up have taken Tanlac, and it has helped them so much, too, that about all we talk about outside of our work, is Tanlac. Why, I feel at least twenty years younger, and am in such good shape it is hard for me to realize I ever had anything wrong with me. I have regained my strength so that my work is actually a pleasure, and I have such a good appetite my wife jokingly says I am about to eat us out of house and home. I think Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world and I am always recommending it to others."

Tanlac is sold in Louisa by Mrs. J. H. Reynolds.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

THE SUN DIAL (By Don Marquis.)

The invention of the electric light was a great thing for moths. For thousands of years moths had been rushing into the flames of lamps and candles and dying there.

They were propelled by a frenzy, an ecstasy, the nature of which we can only conjecture. But the hunch must have been a joyful one. The moth saw the flame and it looked good to him. "You be careful," said the cricket "or you'll burn your wings."

"Wings," said the moth, "Wings and everything else. I'm gonna shoot the roll. Watch me. Here I go. All of me."

And blooey. There he went One moment a fine young moth, the pride of his friends and family, with the dust of amethyst upon his wings, and the next a cinder. And his last words were, "It hurts, but I like it."

The trouble with the moth was that he could not take it or leave it alone. A sip or two of flame on Saturday nights and then sleep it off over Sunday—meant nothing at all to his excitable temperament. "If a little of it is good," he used to say, "a lot of it is better. It may kill me in the end, but I'll die happy."

And in merry millions, he and his friends fluttered to their deaths.

And then the electric light was invented, and dissipation made safe for the moth. He fuses around the little bulbs, and tries and tries, but cannot burn himself to death. He gets all the thrill that he used to get as far as the human observer can tell, but he escapes the lethal consequences. For him there isn't a headache in a barrel of it. For him the evenings are one long joyous phylacterium with the Spirit of Flame. . . . He used to have a short life and a merry one; now he has a long life and a merry one. There is no serpent in his Eden, no poison in his cup; science has come to the assistance of his pleasure and he escapes moral consequences, scandal, hardened arteries, neurasthenia, hell and the psychopathic ward.

What Edison has done for the moth someone should do for the Human Race. We shall not develop the theme but leave you to quarrel over the idea among yourselves.

Never write a letter when you are angry. That is one word of advice that should never go unheeded. Ask any one if this isn't so. Most of us have written letters when we have been near the boiling point and we have all regretted it afterward, for you are sure to say something that you will wish you had left unsaid. Wait until you cool off. You will be able to think of just as cutting things to say if you must say them, and your brain will be clear enough for you to know what you are about. And after all, you know, what good is it going to do? Why work yourself into a frenzy of indignation over trivial things. That is what most of us do. Once in a while we are justified in becoming righteously indignant, but these times are few compared with the times that we flare up over trifles. The next time you are tempted to indulge in a nasty bit of temper, go off by yourself and cool off. You'll be glad you did so afterward.

A happy childhood is the greatest gift you can give your child. It may be that you cannot lavish gifts on him. It may be that you cannot give him the kind of advantages, the kind of clothes, the kind of an education you would like to. But even if you could, you would have to do much more to insure him happy memories of his childhood, and these things alone would do nothing.

It takes so little to make a child happy in the way of material things that it lies in every parent's power to give him that happiness. Harmony in the home, and understanding and sympathy in his ambitions and failures are the things that count. After he reaches age take his happiness from him, and when these times come if happiness has been in his possession earlier in his life, his trouble will not make him bitter. But those people who have never known happiness as children stand a pretty good chance of going through life without it, because they haven't the background against which to build happiness out of the things that come to them later in life.

Ashland's First Gigantic

Profit Sharing Sale

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE HOUR

We propose to hold our First Profit-Sharing Sale in the history of our store. We intend to share our profits with our friends and customers. We express appreciation to the economy-wise people, our friends who have helped build up a magnificent business; one that stands without peer or precedent. We feel justly proud of this grand success, one that we will protect and merit always. All efforts with which we appeal to you have been heard. Our methods have been tried, our integrity tested, we feel as though we owe something to our customers and friends, who have helped make this store a Grand Success. Instead of giving the public flowers, music or souvenirs, we propose to give you something more substantial, we shall inaugurate a Grand Bargain Feast for this occasion, one that will make our First Annual Profit-Sharing Sale far greater than any sale we have ever held.

In Connection With Our First Annual Profit Sharing Sale

We are going to hold one of the greatest money-saving sales in the history of this vicinity. Our buyer has just returned from the East where he has purchased 700 Ladies' Coats and Suits, Men's Trousers, Boys' Suits, Dry Goods, Underwear and 5,000 pairs of Men's, Women's, Boys' and Children's solid leather Shoes. These goods were delayed Fall shipments and you are the one to gain as we are selling them at less than cost of raw material. Never in the history of Ashland has there been such an opportunity to purchase seasonable merchandise at such ridiculously low prices. Our aim is to sell at the lowest prices always, and we make your dollar do twice the work. ASK SOMEONE WHO TRADES HERE!

Ashland's First Gigantic Profit Sharing Sale

THE OPPORTUNITY OF THE HOUR

We propose to hold our First Profit-Sharing Sale in the history of our store. We intend to share our profits with our friends and customers. We express appreciation to the economy-wise people, our friends who have helped build up a magnificent business; one that stands without peer or precedent. We feel justly proud of this grand success, one that we will protect and merit always. All efforts with which we appeal to you have been heard. Our methods have been tried, our integrity tested, we feel as though we owe something to our customers and friends, who have helped make this store a Grand Success. Instead of giving the public flowers, music or souvenirs, we propose to give you something more substantial, we shall inaugurate a Grand Bargain Feast for this occasion, one that will make our First Annual Profit-Sharing Sale far greater than any sale we have ever held.

In Connection With Our First Annual Profit Sharing Sale

We are going to hold one of the greatest money-saving sales in the history of this vicinity. Our buyer has just returned from the East where he has purchased 700 Ladies' Coats and Suits, Men's Trousers, Boys' Suits, Dry Goods, Underwear and 5,000 pairs of Men's, Women's, Boys' and Children's solid leather Shoes. These goods were delayed Fall shipments and you are the one to gain as we are selling them at less than cost of raw material. Never in the history of Ashland has there been such an opportunity to purchase seasonal merchandise at such ridiculously low prices. Our aim is to sell at the lowest prices always, and we make your dollar do twice the work. ASK SOMEONE WHO TRADES HERE!
